"I enjoyed learning about the other participants and their organizations. It was refreshing to meet so many others who share the same passion and love for what we do, but also face similar challenges; it is a reminder that we are not alone and are a part of a community." - Jonathan Serret, City of Thousand Oaks, ELI 2017

"ELI gave me the chance to meet and work with people who are at similar points in their career...I left with a renewed energy for what I'm doing and the difference I can make at my workplace and in the industry." – Erin Jepson, Walton Arts Center, ELI 2011

"It was refreshing. ELI enabled me to look at myself as a person and a professional. It taught me that leadership grows naturally out of self awareness."- Carly Shank, University of Illinois-Springfield, ELI 2009

Program Description

The Emerging Leadership Institute is an intensive two and a half day seminar that provides participants with critical leadership skills they need now and in the future. A group of approximately 25 emerging leaders will be invited to participate. The workshop is a collaborative process, where learning from each other is highly valued. APAP encourages leaders in all areas to apply and understands that real collaboration between artists, presenters and managers creates success. When the ELI class is filled with professionals from every area of our field, the participant's experience is enhanced and the knowledge gained is magnified.

ELI is a rare opportunity for each participant to reflect on and develop their ideas about leadership and on their own career. This workshop provides a space to discover what each individual believes great leadership looks like and how that can influence their own development as a leader. ELI is an opportunity to engage in new professional relationships, become part of an expanding network of ELI alumni (now over 400 individuals), and have an enhanced presence at the conference.
